

Minneapolis Minn. Feb 19 89

L O Cheney L.M. 730 03

Friend —

Accidental receipt of your poem — I happened to be here — May the Lord forgive me! — in regards my postures, in the realm of literary-blossoms, being basket material, my pardonable modesty permits me to agree with your deduction — The grammar in some of my profoundest "earings" is very original and ingenious. This must I will say, I do believe if such a basket was arrived at, during summer months, it would provide some sinews for greater and more substantial efforts along the particular lines you are following — and which must be followed in the future, if we expect to put other than borrowed garbage into belly of parasite.

I am at present an "undisposed" (not in high spirits) but hope to be able to send you material from time to time. You are at liberty to print all, some or none, at your discretion — I am not repulsive.

P.S.

T-hane Slim

Am putting out

T.W.

147