

Of course those surpluses shipped abroad are lost forever — and the moneys of the nation are also gone. The halfwits over there fought on the strength of Uncle Sam's bigheartedness but unfortunately, alas, the old fossils that survived the holocaust were not able to hit the ball hard enough to pay back to our noble minute men the hard earned simoleons of our collective wealth. (First they go through our pockets and then they tap the till) — I know of a better way to wreck the nation) —

Over there the ladies then demanded woman's rights to support those emolumnaives and raise a jackpot to carry on this farm of civilization. All the young men had been butchered off — not a man left that could hardly raise a paw — so they picked out a bunch of dictators to save 'em... All this because industrial overlords went south with too heavy surpluses. Now will you organize a One Big I.W.W. Union and put a stop to all this foolishness?

Don't like that coffee part but it's a lead and I will not rewrite Too long but you ought to see — how short.
