

Lack of consideration is a bad habit.

You yourself would hate to have your foot caught in a bear trap and have a man walk by with his nose in the breeze.

Man does the thinking with the front part of his skull — that's where the hair gets thin firstest.

It ain't a disgrace; the man has been revolving things over in his mind and broke-off some of the roots.

Confucius said:

My doctrine is that all-pervading unity.

U. S. W. is trying to organize that unity today; beginning in the working class. Doctores need hand-to-hand organization.

Kid McCoy said, before he died, with considerable sadness: That he no longer could endure this world's madness.

Europe is destroying that unity.

Unemployment is getting so extensive that a Jersey cow in Connecticut, O., has to pump its own water — sometimes flooding the barn. I can see the incentive for the drink but what's the idea for scrubbing-out the barn?

Maybe it was only scratching & trying to head-off Jersey-flies? Or trying to club them with the pump handle?

Cows ain't as altruistic as all that — even when thirsty — they take the position, "No drinks; no milk." — that's good King's Anglaise.

NEWSWEEK (SIDESHOW) is also good enough to tell us:

"Cash Deposit —

"Milwaukee, Wis.: "Emergency hospital X-rays revealed $2.79 inside a 35-year-old prisoner named Arthur C. Janke: a dollar bill, five quarters, two dimes, six nickels and four pennies."

The bulls had probably caught the poor man panhandling and he swallowed the change rather than let the bulls have it? You can't get away with it; they'll search your guts.

They can't find your spine, tied into several hatch-hitches, but money... ha! they'll count every cent of it — you'll have to wrangle for it.

They Pay Only Under Protest — and for no pot-belly except their own.
