

Price of quicksilver has more than doubled ($81.49 to $194) a flask, 76 pounds.

Haven't heard if the quicksilver miners (divers) received an increase in pay. Probably tied down to a labor contract.

I believe labor contract is unconstitutional!

Witness the employer "pegging" the price of what he has to sell? Nix on that.

War prices is double, (trip/e) portion gravy for the employer. A prayer here is in order!

California has 59 g.s. mines in production.

Custer must have been some hombre! for no one seems to know his first name (George A.) — just Custer. Lustre must be heavy when it puts baptismal titles in the eclipse. He was an Okian. Fast was his rise and quick was his fall — age 37.

Chiselers have no right to give him THE Bronx cheer. (Note the rating "The Bronx.")

Mayor La Guardia is well thought of in "The Bronx" and not without reason: He keeps New York City Clean — compared. His new office for tantrum is: "butcherkrieg." Times are more prosperous in some localities than others — also witness the improvements in New York Central expansions; to care for augmented traffic, prospective. Many of these go-getters rate double shift pullbearers...

A railroad bull all steamed up on account of war materials transshipments came rushing at me, but when he took one look at the roll of overalls, I was carrying he restrained himself and said "Oh, I thought you was one of those bums."

Can you imagine, me a bum? I can forgive him for that slight lapse for I could see by his tranquil eye that he rated me a Senator or a Brigadier General if not Supreme Marshal of all the land forces.

That wouldn't be so bad, Brigadier-General T-bone Slim — if I got my just dues.

According to circumspet exigette you don't wait till the bull rushes you, you rush him, and say: "How are you officer, what's the best way to get to the highway?"
