

Armies and navies and nations are but mere puppets in the hands of capitalism. Question of nationality does not pertain because it is merely one of the baits and one afflicted with nationality degenerates into a confirmed "Knocker" — not an enviable accomplishment — conjuring up real and imaginary atrocities when, in truth, the whole human family is in need of extensive improvements and repairs of major proportions...

Oh when will we learn to accept human beings as they are, dequered types, and not as we wish them to be. Recitation of human faults does drive the reciters insane, it is their audience that goes batty or takes to strong drink; for the ear-drum has no stimulation like the vibrant vocal chords — of course, if both, the audience and the speaker take turns at running down "people a fuller life is had by all. Singing "Hold The Fort" or "Star Spangled Banner" or "Parle Voux" brings the same result.

String out a bunch of curse words; here again the vibration of vocal chords cools your troubled soul and you are whole. (If you can't swear good, drop a flat iron on your toe).

It is a pity that present day economy in Europe must be wrecked before a new economy can be established — not that I love present day barbarisms so well, but because of the cost and suffering involved to the workers. Had the workers organized in one union only, ignored the cries of special privilege for more bait and ceased fostering the interest of their exploiters, all that expense and suffering could have been avoided.

The overfed family cat will not attack a mouse just because you turn a dead ear to its meow.
