

3 Ply Novel:

Theodore Dressler when he wrote the great "American Tragedy" used too many words.
"Rush," "Push" and "Hush!" would have been sufficient.

After hundred years of British schooling India is 86 per cent illiterate — pile of non-learning that.

Black-ade? In several of our more "blackout" states the percentage is 50-50 — and several of the more enlightened states the illiteracy is 15 o/o.

Recently however owing to "super-intelligence" in several of the states (whopper-intelligence) the political "big shots, not the kids, are skipping school.

Many liberals have a misconception that this raft of "little angels, twins, triplets, quadruplets and quintuplets are going to find themselves in the army of unemployed when they grow up

Ego! sloppy thinking — to the contrary many a "prospector" and shepherd will have to give up his traveling stove (eternal blaze, with a handle on it) and his sourdough pan.

The prospectors, shepherders and chicken ranchers should organize now and set a good example.
