(I've left out the Key-word but it might as well be in there because my fast thinking reader will say without stuttering:

"The missing word is "GERMAN" and that Goering has again put on his warpaint.")

Yes we can expect our industrial giants any minute now to trade their Jericho Steel Works for a hamburger concession in Monte Carlo or a peanut stand in the Riviera — indeed we may have a Mussulman to captain our industry. RATS!!

For some few years now our industrial overlords have been situating surplusses from our production into foreign lands. It amounts to billions. Even the nation was hooked into sending other billions into the OLD WORLD during war time. The former would amount to treasure were it not for the fact that those overlords can prove their insanity. Other overlords have been stampeded into dishing up surplus earnings to labor in form of bonus.
