subdivide not yourself but the "watches" — the hours.
HERESY:

It is said that one of our substantial citizen-workers bankrupted three Hoboken saloons by eating up all their free lunch. No mercy and no consideration! Another, a pillar of panhandling recites that he has spent the past ten years in jail with practically no lost time between jolts.

The last time he was trying his ropes for a sentence a great hesitation afflicted him. "Finally," he says, "I picked a guy who was snoring heaviest in a chain and sent him head first into the corner. Of course they had to send out and get a doctor to stitch him up and I got six months." But you do not always have to go to such extremes to partake of government hospitality. You can bum the cop for a cigaret. This attracts his attention to you (You're a major attraction now) — very naturally his roving eye follows your footsteps and he struggles to determine if it's a habit with you or merely a flash in the pan.

Later however as the buxom dowager is digging into her purse as she enters a limousine, and hands you half a dollar, the cop is looking over your shoulder and says — what are you doing? Did you beg this lady? — You say, "officer, you just tend your business and I'll tend mine."

"Come along," sez he, and you're good for 90 days and four-bits for tobacco (if the cops don't frisk you). Dammit, they don't respect jail anymore!

All this would be unnecessary did the boys organize industrially and accept of the full product of their working years

Other bums, economic tramps and intellectual half-wits, are trying to adjust the nation's economy to the proposition of dishing up millions to the few and pennies to the many.
Many choose jail.
