

Hm. Purely elementary grammar!
Russia has a bone to pick with Japan; likewise so has Germany—naturally they coordinated their aspirations and what follows, I suppose, will be hailed British masterstroke...

Let's keep the record straight—but give us a rest. Germany was deprived of her concessions in China and now the indications are good the others will be minus house and home in the Flowery Kingdom—which same is proper. . . .

Connecticut is doing well tossing many of her political thieves in the can—remaining politicians are getting religion fast. "Moses wasn't all wet," they say.
Belgian King has come out for Peace.
That makes it unanimous in Europe but the wars between Brooklyn "Dodgers" and New York "Giants" continues unabated and Ambler's fights Armstrong tonight.
Capital and Labor is also at loggerheads
The only hope is T-bone Slim.

Dairy farmers on milk strike in New York state have offered to detour the milkman and place the milk on Daddy Knickerbocker's porch, and save the—haybees. (Watch how fast this offer is accepted). Never.
