Third or Fourth Party cannot sweeten inequality. Equality must be instituted as finished product — it does not grow in inequality.

Civilization under present setup is in the process of committing suicide and if it doesn't bungle the job we may shortly enjoy an era of first-class savagery and barbarism.

No civil-elation do, cherish,
Nor vexation cruel and glum;
For civilization must needs perish
Just like any other bum.

There are just as many ups as downs
but what we should watch out for is that the last one is up.

We all have petty grievances and we spend too much time consoling ourselves. So much indeed that when a nice big grievance comes along we hardly know how to disport ourselves, we are wailed out.

Petty as they are, men in the past committed suicide for Yess. We are a hardier race and just as inactive. Suicide is not necessary or desirable. — You miss half the fun.
